MISS EISELEIN
DINOSAUR EDUCATION

From Betty Eiselein there are two contributions which will provide amusement in these days of belabored candidates sitting over typewriters trying to figure out the direction of the wind.

The first is a bit from "A Lin-o-Verse-or-Two," published in 1911. It's called the "Dinosaur," and is the work of Bert Leston Taylor, newspaperman.

THE DINOSAUR

Behold the mighty Dinosaur, Famous in prehistoric lore, Not only for his weight and strength But for his intellectual length. You will observe by these remains The creature had two sets of brains—

One in his head (the usual place), The other at his spinal base. Thus he could reason a priori As well as a posteriori.

No problem bothered him a bit: He made both head and tail of it. So wise he was, so wise and solemn, Each thought filled just a spinal column.

If one brain found the pressure strong It passed a few ideas along; If something slipped his forward mind 'Twas rescued by the one behind; And if in error he was caught He had a saving afterthought.

As he thought twice before he spoke He had no judgments to revoke; For he could think, without congestion, Upon both sides of every question. Oh, gaze upon this model beast, Defunct ten million years at least.

Fraternity Sales Of Show Tickets To Be Published

Manager of "Rhythm Rhapsody" Appeals to Organizations For More Help

"Rhythm Rhapsody" will post a fraternity and sorority honor roll with the highest ticket selling houses at the top and Greek organizations who have had the poorest sales at the bottom in next Tuesday's Kalmin, according to Bill Stevens, Missoula, general manager.

With the show less than two weeks off and polish being administered daily, indications point to a finished production. Ticket sales were opened last Thursday and some of the fraternity and sorority houses responded favorably but others did not. Stevens yesterday appealed for more support from those houses which have up to this time done little or nothing to support the all-university musical set for May 1.

"Varsity Vodvil" was abandoned because the sororities and fraternities on the campus expressed the opinion that they were not interested in producing it this year due to the responsibilities placed upon the houses financially and in the time necessary to make a finished production. When "Rhythm Rhapsody" was formulated as a substitute for this production, one hundred per cent co-operation with "Rhapsody" was promised. Last Thursday tickets were put on sale and some houses made a gratifying showing signifying that the show is going to be a success financially. However, some of the organizations have not responded encouragingly. It is for this reason that an honor roll will be published indicating which of the houses are lending the greatest support," Stevens said.

Oil Paintings Are Included In Art Exhibit

"Hell-Gate in Summer" Is Scene of Interest To Missoulians

Oil portraits of western Montana people, scenes in the Bitter Root, Flathead and Missoula valleys, studies of western Montana Indians and pencil sketches are included in the art exhibition of Tom J. Moore, staff artist of the United States Public Health Service, Hamilton. They are on display in the Copper room of the Student Union building and will be for two weeks from 2 until 6 o'clock every afternoon. A scene of particular interest to those in Missoula is a painting called "Hell-Gate in the Early Summer." The painting entitled "Charlie Gabe," owned by Mrs. B. Bateman, is one of an Indian who died a year ago at the age of 100 years. There are 18 oil paintings in the exhibit.

One of the eight pencil sketches, "Survival of the Fittest," was drawn in the laboratory at Hamilton with experimental animals as subjects.

Mr. Moore has studied under Frank Derveneck and George Luks, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and New York City, respectively. He was a member of the art students' league of New York. He has done considerable work in commercial artistry and edited a column on art in a New York newspaper.

Mr. Moore is now working on an historic mural which the Kallispell board of education commissioned him to paint for the Flathead county high school.

AWS Will Try For Revision In Constitution

Desire for Central Board Member May Bring Amendment

Jean Kountz, Whitehall, president of AWS, yesterday urged the executive council members to explain to the various houses and organizations represented the proposed revision to the ASMSU constitution providing for an ex-officio member from that group on Central board. The amendment will be voted on at the primary elections on Aber Day. Reports from the AWS convention in Los Angeles last month, show that Montana was the only school represented which did not allow a member of AWS on the student governing body.

Four women were chosen as AWS nominees for May Queen, who is to be crowned at May Fete late in the quarter. They are Teresa Soltero, Lewistown; Alberta Wick-waller, Valier; Hazel Rice, Great Falls, and Mary Alice McCullough, Eureka. One of these will be elected on Aber Day, the remaining three will serve as attendants. Others nominated and who will also be attendants are Dorothy Russell, Bozeman; Elsie McIntosh, Missoula; Thelma Warrington, Chester; Iris Fear, Poplar; Maxine Ashley, Nyack, and Marylys Marrs, Missoula.

Dr. G. A. Matson Resigns for New Position at Utah

Associate Bacteriology Professor To Teach in Medical School At His Alma Mater

Formal announcement of the resignation of Dr. G. Albin Matson, associate professor of bacteriology, was received by the president's office late yesterday. Dr. Matson has accepted a position in the department of bacteriology and pathology in the medical school at the University of Utah, his alma mater.

Dr. Matson was granted his A.B. degree from the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, in 1927 and in 1929 received his M.A. from the University of Kansas. During 1928-29 Dr. Matson was an instructor in bacteriology at Kansas university, and from 1929-30 he was a member of the teaching staff in the chemistry and bacteriology departments at Snow college.

In 1930 Dr. Matson came to the Montana campus and has been since, with but two years spent at Washington university, St. Louis, working on his doctorate. He was given his Ph.D. degree in 1935.

Dr. Matson's major field has been in bacteriology and his primary interests in the study of the blood groups of the Montana Indians. His study of these blood groups has taken several years and he has found some startling conclusions which have won for him the attention of such internationally-known bacteriologists as Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, director of the Smithsonian Institute.

Considerable anthropological significance is being placed on his research. In order to do some of this research Dr. Matson has received a

Billings, and one in Roundup, Columbus, Big Timber, Bozeman, Helena and Anaconda. The band will be featured at a high school band festival in Harlowton and will appear before the Rotary convention in Lewistown. The program includes selections from the classics, novelities, and popular numbers. A feature number is the trumpet trio, "The Three Aces," played by James Julius, Anaconda; John Billings, Choteau, and Sid Kraabel, Missoula. Sam Smith, Billings, will give readings in comic features. The popular pieces include "Wabash Blues," "Deep Purple," "Some of These Days," "Manhattan Serenade," and "Chocolate Soldier." Among the classical selections are "Poet and Peasant," "Ballet Egyptian," "Finlandia," and "From the New World."

For the first time since it was organized 25 years ago, women this year have played in the regular band. The group began as a concert unit with 15 members. It is now composed of two separate units, military and concert bands. The military band is composed of 56 players, the concert band of 98 players. The select group for the band trip consists of 40 members, six of whom are women.

During the five years that Stanley Teel has been director, the Grizzly band has grown from 35 to 100 pieces. Mr. Teel is a graduate of DePauw and Northwestern universities and was a student of Glen Bainum, famous bandmaster, at Northwestern.

Masquers' "Noah" Is Ready For Thursday Presentation

Cast Stages Dress Rehearsal for Major Spring Play Tonight; Students May Obtain Reserved Seats in Student Union Office

With final preparations for settings and costumes completed and dress rehearsal scheduled for tonight, "Noah," the Masquer spring major production is ready for presentation Thursday night, April 22, at 8 o'clock in the Student Union auditorium. Reserved seats for the play are available in the Student Union business office.

Cast members for "Noah" are:

Noah—Kai Heiberg, Missoula; Shem—Emerson Miller, Missoula; Mama—Madelyn Heister, Missoula; Ham—Koyne Osborne, Livingston; Japhet—Tom Campbell, Missoula; Norma—Peggy Donohoe, Wallace, Idaho; Sella—Elizabeth Larson, Kellogg, Idaho; Ada—Helen Lane, Butte; A Man—Frank Stanton, Hamilton; Monkey—Stan Shaw, Missoula; Tiger—Jack Chisholm, Helena; Lion—Vernon Huck, Kallispell; Elephant—Don Butler, Hamilton; Bear—Edward Hooper, Butte; Cow—Ellen Mountain, Shelby.

"Noah," which is a fantastic semi-retelling of the historical story of Noah and his ark, is related in the manner of a fairy tale. Although it presents Noah with all of his personal difficulties, it is truly the story of the ordinary man, who, with an intense faith in God, does not know exactly what is right for him to do, but tries to do the best he can, attempting to treat his family and the animals on the ark the best he is able.

The tale of Noah is known throughout the world. Obeys

"Noah" brings the story symbolically to the audience. He begins his story with Noah's working and planning with the ark and then shows Noah, his wife, three sons and three neighbor's daughters embarking on their menagerie-voyage in their attempt to bring life to a new and greatly-improved world. He shows them reaching the Utopia which suddenly turns conventional with the old world trouble of doubt rising among the youth of the voyage.

Obeys has mingled comedy with tenderness throughout the entire play, giving a somewhat colloquial touch to the dialogue. It is both imaginative and realistic; both rollicking and serious.

Regarding the play, the Christian Science Monitor has written, "... please see 'Noah'; if not for heaven's sake for the sake of your theatre-going soul. It's like nothing seen or likely to be seen again." All cast members except one have had previous experience in Masquer production. "The fact that most of the cast has had work in Masquer plays before, has helped much in shaping 'Noah' into what we believe will be enjoyed by all who see it," Donald Harrington, dramatics director, said.

Kings of Interpretative Dancing

Ted Shawn's men dancers, who pleased an audience here last year, will be presented tomorrow night in the Student Union auditorium under the auspices of the Outside Entertainment committee.

Shawn Dancers to Appear At Union Tomorrow Night

New and Unique Numbers Are Featured on Program Of Terpsichorean Group; Student Tickets Will Be Twenty-five Cents

Tomorrow night university students and townspeople will have the privilege of seeing Ted Shawn and his group of men dancers present a new and unique program of modern dance. Tickets for students are 25 cents and may be purchased at the Student Union office. All seats are reserved.

Together with some of his more familiar dances, such as the popular interpretation of the life of St. Francis of Assisi, Mr. Shawn presents the new "O. Liberated!" which was presented during the London season this past year. In it is included a new creation, based on the old Greek Mops, which was a form of art ranking with the other arts of that time. Mr. Shawn has made much advancement in the world of dance, and is considered one of America's best dance teachers. He has made dance an integral part of the theater with the workshops he has established in the east and in Florida. His dancers are all college men and have been excellently trained.

This is the last of the series of programs to be presented by the outside entertainment committee this year.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR OFFICE

Candidates for ASMSU officers in the coming elections were given a questionnaire pertaining to the ASMSU constitution last Thursday by Kaimin reporters. The questionnaire, and answers as submitted by the candidates for president of ASMSU, were printed in the Kaimin Friday. Today we are publishing the answers of the candidates for ASMSU vice-president and business manager.

We believe that such a questionnaire, which gives each candidate an opportunity to tell why he is running for office, his personal opinion on the manner in which the student body government functions, as well as an opportunity to prove that he is interested in the affairs of the student body by showing his knowledge of the constitution, is beneficial to both the candidates and the student body in general.

Candidates for office this year are being given a better opportunity to express their qualifications to the student body than ever

Carl Chambers, Billings, candidate for business manager:

1. I feel that I am qualified for the office of business manager of ASMSU because of my knowledge of business practices gained from the Business Administration school; also from the experience I have received as a member of the Student Union executive committee and as a delegate to Interfraternity council.

2. The present system of student government is satisfactory enough although the name as given to the constitution, ASUM, should be changed as soon as possible to ASMSU to give a more clear understanding to the newer students. Possibly minor changes could be made in the present constitution to bring it up to date.

3. If elected to the office of business manager, I hope to continue to give the students an efficient and worthwhile administration. The duties are many, and these will be handled in the best and most efficient way possible.

4. By giving the students an efficient year as business manager is probably the largest betterment that a candidate for this office can contribute.

5. Few changes are necessary in the revision of the constitution, although, as stated previously, the name should be changed because the present name is somewhat misleading. I think that until the students become interested enough to know just what is contained in the constitution that any change, either minor or major, would not make much difference to them. It is true however, that certain amendments are necessary.

6. The president of ASMSU is the official representative of the student body and presides at all student meetings and convocations. He presides at all meetings of Central board and is a delegate to the Athletic board. The vice-president is chairman of the social committee and presides in the absence of the president.

The business manager has charge of all business, entertainments and functions of the student body. He is chairman of the Budget and Finance committee, a delegate to Athletic board and at the end of each term must present to Central board an estimated list of expenditures for the following school year. He must authorize and approve all expenditures of the student funds.

The secretary keeps a record of all proceedings of Central board and is the official correspondent of the student body.

7. The duties of the Central board delegates are not clearly defined in the constitution but there are five delegates that are elected by their classes to serve for terms of one or two years. The freshmen elect a delegate in the spring to serve for two years, the sophomores elect a delegate to serve two years and the juniors elect a delegate to serve for one year.

8. The president, vice-president, secretary, business manager, two junior delegates, two junior delegates, one sophomore delegate, two faculty representatives, an alumni member of the Alumni association and the Kaimin editor.

9. 1. Budget and Finance com-

before. Next Monday, a special convocation will be held so that office seekers may appear before the student body personally. Campaign managers will talk in behalf of the various candidates.

Surely it is the duty of every student to attend this convocation. We cannot have an efficient student body government if we do not make it a point to elect the best possible candidates, regardless of affiliations. If every voter considers the various office seekers seriously, and from an impartial viewpoint as possible, casting his vote accordingly, it is just possible that there won't be quite so much griping after elections are over.

The question, "Are you in favor of the honor system of conducting examinations?" is one which should not be overlooked. Members of the Student-Faculty council are conducting a straw vote on Aber Day to determine the attitude of the students on this question. Opinions of both students and faculty members on the subject are being printed in the Kaimin. Take a few minutes time out right now and consider Aber Day as being important not only because it is a holiday, but because it is election day.

mittee. 2. Outside Entertainment committee. 3. Social committee. 4. Athletic board. 5. Traditions committee. 6. Debate and Oratory committee. 7. Publications committee. 8. Personnel committee. 9. "M" Book committee.

10. The ASMSU constitution may be changed by a ballot vote of two-thirds of the registered student body.

11. The vacancies in an office are filled by special elections which are announced in the Kaimin.

12. ASMSU received from the students approximately $12,000 quarterly from the activity fee.

13. A salaried auditor, appointed by the university administration, is required to audit regularly all accounts incurred by the ASMSU, the student activity fees are to be used for purposes set up by various student departments such as athletics, Kaimin, Masquers, etc.

James Paulson, Sand Coulee, candidate for ASMSU business manager:

1. I feel that I fully understand all of the duties of the business manager. I feel that I have fulfilled the qualifications required. I will do all that is in my power to work for the general good of the student body and the University of Montana. I have attended the university for three years and have had a deep interest in the governmental affairs of the student body.

2. The present student government set-up as I see it, is in my estimation an efficient one. If I in any way can see any changes for the betterment of the organization I will do all that may be in my power to make these changes.

3. If elected, I believe that I can live up to the standards of the past administrations, and as I stated before I will do all in my power for the betterment of conditions if and when my power will be needed.

4. I expect to make an attempt to cut any expenses that I see will be able to be cut; as a member of the Athletic board I will do all in my power to promote measures for bigger and better athletics.

5. At present I see no immediate changes needed in the ASMSU constitution.

6. The duties of the ASMSU officers as defined in the present constitution are as follows:

President: He shall be the chairman of the entire organization. He shall preside over all meetings of the organization. He will act as ex-officio chairman of the Central board and the Athletic board. He is the head officer of the organization at large.

Vice-president: He shall take over the duties of the president if and when the president is absent.

Secretary: The secretary shall keep a record of all proceedings of the meetings of the organization. The secretary shall immediately make a duplicate copy of the minutes of the meetings and give them to the president of the university and one faculty member of the Central board to be kept on file. The secretary is the correspondent for the entire organization.

Business manager: He is in charge of all entertainment, functions and business of the ASMSU not awarded to committees as outlined by the constitution. He is a member of the Central board, Athletic board and chairman of the budget and finance committee. He shall be responsible for a budget listing the expenses and incomes, the assets and liabilities for the ensuing year by May 1 of the preceding year.

7. Central board delegates shall act in their part in the control of the government of the organization of ASMSU. They shall be the governing body of the organization.

8. Central board is composed of the president, vice-president, secretary and business manager, also a delegate from the sophomore, junior and senior classes, also two faculty members.

9. There are nine standing committees.

10. The ASMSU constitution can be changed by a petition submitted to the student body and a two-thirds vote of the student body provided 500 vote.

11. Vacancies in office are filled by a special election by the student body.

12. ASMSU received approximately $33,000 from the student body this year.

13. Fifty per cent of this amount from payment of the student activity fee is appropriated to the Athletic department, 8 1-3 is appropriated to the Sentinel and the remaining 25 per cent is used for any of the necessary expenditures for the student body.

Robert Van Haur, Hilger, candidate for ASMSU Business Manager:

1. Because I am eligible; because I have the necessary business training to understand the duties required.

2. ASMSU set-up is OK. The Student-Faculty senate is still on trial.

3. In carrying out the wishes of the student body in regard to the office of manager, with care and efficiency.

4. To keep the business of ASMSU moving smoothly, efficiently and honestly.

5. It should be revised so that in word it corresponds to the spirit of the constitution as now carried out. Several changes are being proposed at the moment which should be considered.

6. The president of ASMSU shall preside at all meetings of the association; he shall further be an ex-officio member of the Athletic board and chairman of Central board.

The vice-president shall preside in place of the president whenever the former shall be absent. The vice-president shall also be chairman of the social committee and a member of Central board.

The manager of ASMSU shall have charge of all activities, entertainments and functions that are not under the control of the committees as designated by the constitution. He shall also be chairman of the Budget and Finance committee.

The secretary of ASMSU shall have charge of all correspondence and keep record of all meetings. The secretary is also ex-officio member of Central board.

8. Central board is composed of the president, vice-president, manager and secretary of ASMSU, two faculty representatives, one alumni

Irene Morrow, Great Falls, candidate for vice-president:

1. Most of my time for extra-curricular activities has been spent working for Women's Athletic association, which comes under to major department. In the spring of '36 I was elected vice-president of that group and for the following year I will have the office of secretary. I was a delegate from my social group to Student-Faculty council until my recent election as president of that social group. I have had to learn to work with other people in being a leader of these groups, and feel qualified to work with students of ASMSU if lucky enough to be elected as their vice-president.

2. I have not found any fault with the present student government and believe it is the right type of set-up for a school like our university.

3. It would seem that my duties of office would be to attend and know the workings of Central board and be social chairman for the entire group of students. If I were in office, I would expect to attend all meetings which concern me and to thoroughly think out all problems which may come before Central board which will affect students or have anything to do with their school. I think social functions which bring the whole together should be well planned and ideas well carried out.

4. This has been a very successful year for ASMSU, but no doubt there are many things that could be bettered. As yet I am not aware of any specific things, but if elected I would do all I could to contribute to the betterment of any conditions which might arise.

5. The constitution seems to tell quite clearly the duties of officers and the workings of Central board and the standing committees, and I can't see that any definite changes need to be made.

6. President: Ex-officio chairman of Central board, ex-officio chairman of Athletic board, official representative of the Association and presides at all meetings of Association.

Vice-president: Takes over duties of president in his absence, chairman of social committee and ex-officio vice-chairman of Central board.

Secretary: Takes all minutes of meetings and has duplicate copies so that one may be given to president. Does all corresponding for the association. Secretary of Central board.

Business manager: Charge of all finances. Requisitions must be presented with all orders and be OK'd by business manager. At end of term must prepare itemized statement of money spent during the year.

7. Central board delegates must attend meetings regularly and have final vote on questions or suggestions from the standing committees.

8. Central board is composed of president of ASMSU, vice-president, secretary, business manager, two faculty advisors, alumni selected by Alumni association, Kaimin editor and representatives for sophomore, junior and senior class.

9. There are nine standing committees.

10. Constitution may be changed if 10 per cent of voters sign petitions requesting a change or amendment. Notice of meeting posted for two weeks. Change or amendment thoroughly discussed and voting five days later with two-thirds vote necessary for change.

11. Vacancies in office are filled by holding special election. Notice of such election to be posted two weeks before.

12. ASMSU receives $16.50 a year from each student—paid $5.50 at beginning of each quarter.

13. None of student activity money is to be given to any individual for his work in office, but could be used for extra work or materials used. Money is to be used for student activities and publications.

member, the Kaimin editor and the yell king.

9. Nine.

10. By amendment, by referendum, or by appointing a special committee to revise it whereupon it must be accepted by vote at a general election.

11. It depends upon the office.

12. Approximately $22,000.

13. No money shall be expended by any officer of the ASMSU except upon requisition duly signed. No officer of the ASMSU shall receive any consideration for his or her services or for any expenditures made without authority. The student accounts shall be audited once a month by the student auditor.

Jane Paulson, Harlowton, candidate for ASMSU vice-president:

1. Because I have served on Student Union Executive committee, AWS board and WAA board, on Independent Council and served as class secretary and treasurer of Corbin hall, I feel that I have kept in fairly close touch with campus affairs and that the experience I have had in these groups should qualify me to run for the position of vice-president of ASMSU. Now of course I might mention my sterling qualities such as honesty, integrity and ability to dissect guinea pigs, but that somehow savors of certain speeches I have had the extreme pleasure to tune off on. Let the aforementioned suffice.

2. I feel that the present student government set-up could be improved upon by delegating more power to Central board, whose power at present seems mostly appointive. I also feel that certain points in the constitution are most indefinite and need clarifying, such as the clause that the "Personnel committee be elected by the ASUM" at a general election? Classes?

3. I expect to try to further the advancement of an as wide and far-reaching a co-recreational program as possible.

4. I have strong and definite. Since the office for which I am running my only listed duties are to take the place of the president in his absence and serve as chairman of the Social committee I feel it my duty to state that I have strong and definite opinions upon the value of a corral to restrain the stags at mixers from the middle of the floor. Seriously I feel that there is much to be done in the field of co-recreation upon the campus; a movement which has already been started by some of the Student Union committees but in which much more could be done.

5. I have already mentioned changes I thought necessary in the constitution in Question 2.

6. President—to take charge at all meetings of the association, to act as ex-officio chairman of Central board and to represent the student body as a whole.

7. Pres: Take charge of all meetings of the association, to act as ex-officio chairman of Central board.

Vice-pres: To act as chairman of the Social committee; to take the place of the president in his absence.

Secretary: To make a record of all meetings and take care of all the correspondence of the association; to submit copies of the notes of the meetings of the association and Central board to the president of the university and a member of the faculty on Central board.

Business Mgr.: Is custodian of all the property of the association; he must collect estimates of budgets from the various committees and formulate a yearly budget.

8. President, vice-president, secretary, business manager of ASMSU, faculty members, Kaimin editor.

9. Nine.

10. By petition of 10 per cent of the voters the constitution may be amended. If the amendment is then posted two weeks before the meeting for its consideration at which it (the amendment) may be changed in form, etc. An election must be held within two days after this meeting. If amendment approved by a two-thirds vote it becomes a part of the constitution.

11. The president of ASMSU calls for an election upon the vacancy of officers.

12. Approximately 2000 x $16.50. I'm no mathematician; I can't even spell it.

13. The university.

Jean Fritz, Ronan, candidate for ASMSU vice-president:

1. I feel qualified because I have been active in student affairs for the three years of my college and know quite a good deal about the various organizations on the campus. My work as Spur president my sophomore year acquainted me with the difficulties involved in leadership and gave me experience in handling these difficulties. This year I was a member of Traditions board and through this work met many of the students. For these reasons I feel that I can adequately handle the duties of vice-president of ASMSU.

2. I believe that the present student government is efficiently organized and well-managed.

3. If I am elected I expect to perform the duties of vice-president to the best of my ability. The duties of vice-president are not many or arduous, consisting mainly of the chairmanship of the Social committee which has charge of the various student mixers, and I sincerely believe I can handle them.

4. By fully co-operating with my fellow officers in best serving the student body, by being as impartial and unprejudiced in my relations with student affairs as possible.

5. I believe that the ASMSU constitution is satisfactory at present.

6. President—shall preside at all association meetings, ex-officio chairman of Central board and Publications board.

Vice-president—serve in case of absence of president in his duties and be ex-officio chairman of Social committee.

Secretary—take minutes of Central board and association meetings and give typewritten copy of Central board minutes of each week to president of the university, and to the faculty advisor.

Business manager—ex-officio member of Budget and Finance committee and in charge of handling of ASMSU funds—all entertainments, functions and business of ASMSU.

7. The duties of the Central board delegates to my knowledge consist of meeting at least once a week at appointed time with ASMSU officers to act on the student affairs and activities of Central board of ASMSU.

8. President, vice-president, secretary, business manager, two faculty advisors, editor of Kaimin, cheer leader, two representatives from senior and junior classes and one from sophomore class.

9. Nine.

10. Recommended by Central board to student body—500 signatures and then voted and agreed on by two-thirds of student body.

11. Vacancies are filled by first notifying of students in Kaimin nominations and then special elections for new office called by Central board.

12. About $37,000.

13. That book shall be kept and regular auditors to be allowed to chalk them monthly. All requisitions must be OK'd by the faculty auditor and the organization which wants the funds.

Grizzly Track, Field Stars Will Compete In Drake Relay Meet

Performers Will Enter Hurdle, Pole Vault, Two-Mile Contest Events; Coach Harry Adams Leaves Sunday for Des Moines

Six Grizzly track and field performers will compete in the Drake relays Friday and Saturday. Track Coach Harry Adams left by auto Sunday for Des Moines, Iowa, with four Grizzlies, and Doug Brown and Fred Stein leave today by train. Accompanying Adams are Claire Nybo, Alf Elselin and Bob Hileman, hurdlers, and Jack Rose, two-miler. Stein will compete in the pole vault and Brown rounds out Montana's hurdling quartet. Stein and Rose will see action in the big meet Friday, with the pole vault trials and the two-mile run scheduled for that day. Nybo, Brown, Elselin and Hileman will run in the 480-yard shuttle relay Saturday.

Nybo has turned in the fastest time of the hurdlers so far this season, with a 15.2 seconds in the interclass meet Saturday. Brown has consistently topped the barriers in 15.6, with Elselin close behind in 15.7. Stein cleared 12 feet 10 inches in the meet Saturday for his best early season mark with the bamboo. Adams is confident that Rose will better his 9:44.7 time in the two-mile when he lines up against some of the country's best two-milers Friday.

Adams has also entered his three best hurdlers, Nybo, Brown and Elselin, in the 120-yard high hurdles.

White Team Topples Reds 5-0 on Grid

Losers Lead in First Half But Safety, Accurate Kick Spell Defeat

Undermanned Whites capitalized on breaks and poor Red generalship to grab the first practice grid game Saturday morning, 5-0. Savage tackling and Perry Stenson's 39-yard field goal featured the ragged skirmish.

The Reds dominated the first half, with plenty of hard running by Jack Emigh and Rolfe Lundberg keeping the Whites on the defensive. Early in the second half, Forte drew a 15-yard penalty for the Reds, putting the favorites practically on their own goal line. Narbutas failed to kick out of danger, his punt traveling a bare 29 yards. For the first time, the White running attack went into high.

Nugent picked up a first down on three off-tackle slants, then broke through the Red secondary for a 12-yard drive. Three plunges failed to gain from the 12-yard mark. Stenson was pulled back from the line for a field boot, but the kick was low and wide.

An exchange of punts gave the Reds the leather on their own 30-yard line. Three plays were good for nine yards, but Lundberg was held for no gain in an unorthodox attempt to pick up the necessary yard and the Whites took the ball on downs. Two plunges by Nugent failed to advance and a pass to Smith was long. With the ball on the east side of the field, Stenson stepped back and booted the ball squarely over one of the uprights for the first three points.

In three tries from the 20-yard stripe, the Reds lost four yards and Narbutas went back to kick. Frank Smith, at right end for the Whites, flashed in to block the punt, with the ball rolling off the playing field. Referee Hoagland ruled a safety and two more points for the Whites.

"Cub" Brown broke up a last-chance passing spurt by the Reds, after Bofto had gathered in Lundberg's flip for 12 yards.

Frank Nugent was outstanding in the White backfield, running hard and backing up a good line in big time style. Emigh's end runs picked up plenty of yardage, but ineffective Red blocking could not open the path to shake him loose. Art Peterson and Arch McDonald played effective defensive ball, and Narbutas proved to be the most improved player on the squad. Both teams were content with close, conservative ball, only seven forward passes and one lateral being attempted during the struggle.

Jack Emigh, stamped by Fessenden as the best back the Grizzlies have seen in a long time, footed late a bone in his right foot late in the game and will probably be out of action for the remainder of the spring drill.

Of the Interfraternity games played over the week-end the most exciting was between Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Nu. In the opening frame the Phi Sigs circled the bases on hits for two runs and kept the lead until the last inning, when Sigma Nu rallied and scored two runs on solid clouts. With the score tied and the Phi Sigs taking their last chance, Cliff Green was sent in to pinch-hit and responded with a clean single to center field. Green then stole second and scored on a wild throw to first base for a Phi Sig victory.

Interfraternity baseball games are six inning games instead of five as last year. At the meeting Monday the question of lengthening the games was hotly discussed. Adams stated that last year's games lasted about two hours or more. One thing that last year's players had to contend with was a playing field that was not kept in condition. Much delay in starting games increased the time length.

This year the field will be taken care of by the NYA and six inning games should average one hour if they are started on time and kept moving.

There was a great deal of discussion as to the eligibility of Charles Miller, basketball star, who pitched a few innings for the Students' store team last spring. A rule stating that anyone who had played in a Students' store game was ineligible was passed. Then the team managers did a fancy about face and voted to allow Miller to play. But Students' store players will not be allowed to play in the Interfraternity league even if the Students' store does not have a team this year. Baseball is not a varsity sport but some of the men who pay their activity fee to support minor sports are not allowed to play in the league nor do they receive any award for playing on the store nine. (My, my, such injustice!) Before the vote came up as to eligibility Adams is quoted as saying to Nick Mariana, "We can do anything." Mariana protested vigorously to the ruling that Students' store players would be ineligible if McCollum did not have a team this year. Then Mr. Adams led the discussion in other channels of minor sports. Tsk, tsk.

From the egg tossers of last year who scored direct hits, one of the best pitching staffs in the country could be selected. Although many wore masks it would be easy to go through the Kaimin files and select the names of many who could be developed into baseball players. The way some of the fellows would wind up and let an egg fly through the air would be a sight for even the great "Dizzy" Dean to see.

April 24 and 25, all university golfers, including varsity men, will compete for the university championship. Style of play will be the same as in yesterday's tournament with the exception that the eight low men will play the final 18 holes.

"Jiggs" Dahlberg, new basketball coach, and Doug Fessenden were in a huddle much of yesterday afternoon. Doug was explaining the Grizzly style of play for next year and "Jiggs" was all ears. Said "Jiggs," "I'll be asking you a million and one things on the field, Doug, so don't get excited if I get mixed up and ask you which one of those guys has the ball after a play gets underway." Fessenden smiled, grinned and then laughed — "Jiggs" laughed with him — what a swell combination—Fessenden, Dahlberg and Hoagland. You can't beat them for friendliness and

Bob Jens Wins Golfers' Novice Tourney Sunday

Champion Is Closely Followed By Hills; All-School Contest Is Next Saturday

Bob Jens, Roundup, won the university novice tournament last Saturday and Sunday at the Garden City community golf course with a score of 81 for 18 holes.

Bob Jens, Roundup; Kirk Hills, Baker; Frank Clapp, Missoula, and Meredith Watts, Roundup, walloped the white pill for the best scores from a field of 32 par chasers and then competed for championship honors. Jens received the minor sports award, a silver Grizzly buckle and belt.

"Boy, that was close," said Jens. "I didn't think I'd beat Hills." Hills after a par-breaking start slipped on one hole in his first nine-hole round for a 39. "I blew up the second time around," said Kirk, "and got a 44." Jens' 38 and 43 gave him the novice title for a two-stroke margin.

Next Saturday and Sunday all students are eligible to compete in the university championship tournament.

For the benefit of student, community and high school golfers a suggestion box for the improvement of the golf course will be placed at the entrance of the club house. The management is working hard to satisfy golfers and any suggestions pertaining to improvement and better convenience is welcome. The writer need not sign his suggestion.

One suggestion already received is this: A green to practice putting should be built near the club house so that those who are waiting can brush up on this feature of the game.

It looks bad for the university baseball team. With no sponsor in sight and "no dough" things have taken a gloomy aspect. There are no new developments and the annual Aber day baseball game between the university store and Interfraternity All-Stars may be a thing of the past. Last year the Interfraternity team threw a scare into its opponents in the last inning but lost by one run. The game this year would be close, especially with the fraternity teams lining up with such strength.

Cliff Olson, Aber day manager, is busier than any campus politician as he makes plans for the one big day of the year. Olson is hurrying here and there, arranging for this and for that, assigning men and women to jobs all over the campus and is getting great help. He is trying to line up a baseball game between the university store and Interfraternity All-Stars and has asked that this column be ready to select an All-Star team should he succeed in making the arrangement.

Sophomores Win Annual Track Meet

Juniors Take Second Place With 36 Points; Frosh Team Scores 25

Sophomores easily won the annual interclass track meet Saturday afternoon by collecting a total of 69 points to 36 for their nearest contenders, the juniors. Freshmen took third place with 25 points and the small senior squad trailed with 13. Ernest Boyer of the frosh squad won the individual honors for the day with 11 points. Clayton Olson, junior, was runnerup for individual honors.

The weather was more favorable for competition than last Saturday, with the sun shining part of the afternoon and the thermometer considerably above the level at which it stood the week before. A slight wind hindered some of the jumpers a little.

Olson turned in a quarter-mile in the good time of 50.9 seconds, with Swanberg clipping off the half in 2:2. Swanberg has taken about six seconds off his time in the last ten days. Rose took the mile event in 4:31.8, a good showing for the two-mile specialist. Brown and Nybo tied for first in the high hurdles, tearing them off in 15.6 seconds.

This coming week-end will see the intercompany track meet for ROTC honors.

Results of the meet:

100-yard dash—Tie, Boyer, frosh, and Hoar, sophs, 10.3 seconds; Jenkin, sophs; Sundquist, Cubs.

Managers Club Elects Coughlin First President

Organization Is Begun to Promote Co-operation, Good Feeling in Athletic Relations

Kenneth Coughlin, Butte, was elected president of the newly-formed Managers club at the first meeting of the group last Thursday night. Woodburn Brown, Hamilton, was elected vice-president, and Norman Stortz, Forsyth, was chosen as secretary. The club was organized through the efforts of T. O. Hoagland, athletic manager. Coughlin is present track manager. Stortz will handle the 1937 Grizzly football team, and Brown, football manager last fall, is now assistant athletic manager.

It was pointed out that the main purposes of the organization were to promote co-operation and good feeling between the Montana athletic managers and the managers of other schools, and to make the athletic managerships more attractive to the students here. To do this, it has been suggested that awards be given to the freshman, sophomore and junior managers as well as the senior managers. The awards would probably be sweaters of varying weight and a small letter with a numeral set on it.

To be eligible for membership in the club a manager must serve in his capacity for one full school year, although during this time he will be a "pledge" of the club.

Managers' club have been organized at other schools throughout the country and have proven successful in their workings. The clubs provide assistants for the managers of visiting teams and encourage good will in athletic relations.

SENIORS NOTICE!

OL' JUDGE ROBBINS

INDIAN DISK PIPE

MY GOSH, JUDGE—DO YOU MEAN TO SAY THIS IS AN AMERICAN INDIAN PIPE?

YES, INDEED! IT'S A DISK PIPE FROM A WISCONSIN INDIAN MOUND. IT'S VERY VERY OLD.

DISK PIPES ARE OF 2 TYPES—ONE WITH HANDLES AND ONE WITHOUT. THIS IS THE HANDLES VARIETY. IT'S MADE OF MARBLE AND BEAUTIFULLY POLISHED. THE MANNER OF SMOKING THE DISK PIPE IS STILL AN OPEN QUESTION BUT IT'S ASSUMED BY MANY AUTHORITIES THAT THE DEPRESSION IN THE DISK IS THE BOWL OF THE PIPE.

I ALWAYS THOUGHT INDIAN PIPES WERE ALIKE—SOMETHING LIKE THEIR LONG-STEMMED CALUMET.

OH, NO—THE INDIANS HAD AS MANY SHAPES AND SIZES OF PIPES AS WE HAVE TODAY.

I DON'T WORRY ABOUT THE SHAPE OR SIZE OF MY PIPE—JUST SO LONG AS IT'S LOADED WITH MILD, SMOOTH PRINCE ALBERT.

YES—WHEN ONE END OF A PIPE HAS PRINCE ALBERT IN IT THE OTHER END IS BOUND TO GIVE YOU PRINCELY SMOKING.

OUR OFFER

PRINCE ALBERT MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

Communications On Honor System

Kaimin Editor:

Just now it seems almost profitable to talk about the honor system. It is an ideal which I hope we can sometime achieve. The success of the honor system would depend upon a developed sense of unity and common aspiration and habits of working together in confidence and respect on important matters. I am not impressed now with that spirit among us.

Also the present congestion in the university would be an adverse factor. A student acquainted with his instructor and fellows and having a full and fair chance to master the content of a course is in a position to respond to the dishonor in cheating. The student who is almost through a course before he is discovered as an individual, is not. It is the sense of responding to the challenge not to fall below what is expected of you by your fellows rather than the fear of being reported by your classmates that the honor system would depend upon.

What is the experience in other institutions? Has the system worked in larger classes as well as in small? Has it worked in these latter years when education is a much more competitive period of striving for professions and positions than it was several decades ago?

Is it possible to urge some few selected courses in the university to give the system a trial, as has the law school, and let us observe their success?

E. L. Freeman.

Kaimin Editor:

Mr. Clark has asked that I give my views on the feasibility of an honor system in the light of past experience in this university.

I believe that the honor system has proved satisfactory in a few of the older universities with long established traditions, especially in the South. It has also been found effective in certain university divisions consisting of mature students with two years or more of college preparation and bound together with a certain professional esprit de corps.

In this institution, there have been one formal attempt and several informal attempts to institute such a system. Some years ago a group of students discussed with the faculty the establishment of an honor system. This discussion resulted in a poll of the student body. The negotiations went upon the rocks through the unwillingness of the student body to bind itself to report infractions of the code to a court of faculty members, or of students, or of faculty and students combined. The faculty believed then, as I believe now, that this was an essential feature of such a system. It is obvious that liberty without corresponding responsibility breeds license. It is equally obvious that a small unco-operative minority, if allowed to go unchecked, can wreck the system. It seems to me that an honor system should be adopted not on a mere majority but only on an overwhelming majority pledged to the idea that any unco-operation be reported.

Before examinations were centralized in the gymnasium, several members of the faculty tried the scheme of placing the class on its honor, exacting no formal pledges, and leaving the room. Student rumor, the only available evidence in such cases, had it that, in most cases, these examinations became hot-beds of dishonesty. I myself some years ago tried an honor system with a class which consisted exclusively of seniors in my own department. These were not assembly examinations. They consisted of sets of problems given out some two weeks ahead of the close of the quarter. Formal pledges were signed by each man insofar as his own honesty was concerned.

Graduate Student Wins Fellowship

Tweto Will Work for Doctorate Degree at Cornell

Ogden Tweto, Missoula, who is a candidate for his Master of Arts degree here this June, has just been elected to an assistantship in Cornell university, Ithica, New York. He will study in the geology department there for his Ph.D.

Mr. Tweto has done post-graduate work for three years, taking several courses in chemistry and mathematics. He will take his doctor's degree in petrography.

For some years I thought these worked well. Finally I found out, as was substantiated by confessions, that I had been living in a fool's paradise.

It appears from the foregoing, that in the past negotiations have failed and that individual attempts have, in the main, failed. It may be argued that this was some years ago and that attitudes are different now. I hope that this is so—however, I cannot forget that there are now reposing in a locked post-office box a number of letters (to be opened, I understand, shortly) in reply to an offer to sell course examinations.

In the light of these experiences, one who is in the habit of forming opinions on the basis of facts rather than through the process of wishful thinking may, perhaps, be forgiven if he regards talk of a successful honor system with a certain amount of pessimism.

R. H. Jesse.

Merriam Named Head Of Conference Meeting

Presiding at one of the general conference meetings in Spokane, Professor Merriam discussed "Literature in the Secondary Schools." He considered in his talk the basic principles of selection of literature for secondary schools and the oral interpretation of literature.

Principal speakers at the English teachers' meeting were Holland DeWitte Roberts, historian and professor of education at Stanford university; Carol Hovious, head of the English department in San Benito county high school and junior college at Hollister, California; Mary Weeks, former president of the national council of teachers of English, and Ward H. Green, director of English at the Tulsa, Oklahoma, public schools.

Work which the Council of English teachers considered at the meetings will be conducted throughout the year, including the re-editing and bringing up-to-date of the bulletin, Northwest Books, published in 1933. The bulletin contains book reviews, authors' names, residences, publishers and comments as to the suitability of the books used in grade schools. It is published primarily for the use of teachers of English.

Dr. Louise Arnoldson, professor of French, and Dr. W. P. Clark, chairman of the classical language department, also represented the university at meetings of educators in Spokane, April 7-9.

Bear Paw will meet this evening at 7:30 in the large meeting room.
